School uniform

Do you have to wear a uniform at school or can you wear what you like?

Many people believe that uniforms are better than casual clothes for children at school.

Uniforms remind the children that they have to follow rules at school. Casual clothes don't do this.

With all children at school wearing the same clothes, children from rich families dress the same way as children from poorer families.

A uniform also creates a feeling that everyone at the same school is part of the same community.

In the 1960s and 1970s, many schools in Britain stopped having a school uniform because of the expense for parents.

Since then, however, a number of these schools have brought uniforms back.

Their new uniforms are more comfortable and more fashionable than uniforms were forty years ago.

They're so popular that many of the head teachers at schools without uniforms are thinking now about bringing uniforms back there too.
